Irish in Provincial 1800's Eastern Connecticut

For our September 17th meeting of the IHRT, at 7:30pm, we are pleased to welcome Phil Gallagher. He will be speaking on Irish immigrants and their lives in the eastern part of our state at a time when they lived the pioneering life, with early industry just starting to be established. It is a place of Newtown miners, farmers, Hat Union officials, and dynamic priests, all coming from Ireland.

A resident of Bethel, J. Philip Gallagher, of the Danbury AOH, has been its President there. He's also been the president of other county and state organizations and a member of the National Board. He is a columnist for the National Hibernian Digest as well as serving as State Historian and Archivist. He has had a deep interest in Irish history all his life.
